AS TO COMPULIORY ROUGATION. Our esteemed friend, T. J. W., does not favor compulsory education for South Carolina. We appreciate very much his kind words about the editor and we hope the editor will not disappoint him. It is necessary, however, to correct one or two wrong impressions which seem to have been made on the mind of T. J. W. and possibly others. In advocating compulsory education no one suggested that there would be any increase of the amount of school tax or that it would be advisable to lengthen the school term to nine months, though that would be desirable, but not practicable at present and for some time to come. The most ardent advocates of compulsory education for South Carolina only contend for a term of sixteen weeks, which is less than the public school term in this State.

As to the statement that "there are at least three-fifths of the white parents doing everything available to school their children, in fact there are hundreds of them making sacrifice."

This is true, and no better argument in favor of a compulsory education law can be made. "Three-fifths of the white parents are doing everything available to school their children." Compulsory education would not in the least affect these three-fifths. are two-fifths of the white parents of the State who are not accounted for by T. J. W., and these two-fifths, and not the "three-fifths who are doing everything available" already, are the ones we desire to reach and are the only ones who would be reached by legislation of this charac-

Referring to the case mentioned in these columns of a young girl in one of our upper counties who could neither read nor write and had never heard of the existence of a God, T. J. W. asserts that "any parents who neglect the moral training of their children in this respect are not worthy to live." If this be true, what about a State which permits parents so to neglect their children? But the worth of the parents is not the question. The weldemanding attention.

As to the cotton mill, what T. J. W. says of Mr. McCrary is possibly true. The mill has built a handsome school man and Clerk. building and contributes to the support dren right here in the Newberry cotton mill village who ought to be at at 7 a m. and closed at 6 p. m. school and whose parents want to send labor is demanded in the mill.

the mater of education for a long time to tion. come. If it is right to tax the people for the education of the children pecause in a government like ours an lots therein, and continue without adeducated and intelligent citizenship is journment until the same is completed, 642 J A Suber, co home not only desirable but necessary, then and make a statement of the result for 643 J L Et ps, treas sal it is right to say to those parents or guardians who are neglecting the children entrusted to their care, that you by the Board, must deliver to the Comshall give them the advantage of the education provided. Not to increase the amount expended but that all the children shall receive the advantage of that already provided.

The town of Greenwood is making a county: hard fight to secure the Methodist College in case it is removed from Columbia and the opinion prevails that it is to be moved. The board favors moving and a great many Methodists. This feeling, it seems to us, prevails from the fact that the people of Columbia are utterly indifferent. Columbia is centrally located and is really the place for the college, but as the business men there are so indifferent it looks that the college will be moved.

We admire the pluck of Greenwood. The college will be worth a great deal to any community in which it is located from every point of view-financial, intellectural and moral.

We like a town or a community that is progressive and a people who can see beyond their nose.

We observe that Col. Jno. T. Sloan announcing his appointments right along. He has not yet been elected lieutenant governor, but we presume he wants to get rid of office seekers as early as possible by letting it be known that he has already decided on the men he has selected. Capt. Heyward says he will not consider applications for appointment until after he has been elected.
